Performance Notes

Stone Wilson (1927-) didn't write many songs that fit the barbershop style, but this one surely does. Some of his other creations include "I Like To Talk To The Animals," "Corvair Baby," "Eyes of Blue," "War And Peace," as well as the "Buster Keaton Cues."

"Back in the Old Routine" is one of the most popular barbershop songs of all time. It was originally arranged by tenor Greg Backwell for his quartet, The Nighthawks (Toronto, Ontario), who sang it in the sixties. A decade later it was picked up by the Society's 1971 gold medalist Gentlemen's Agreement (Detroit). Interestingly, Greg sang baritone in this quartet for a while, although he didn't medal with them.

An excellent example of a "soft-shoe" style, this song would be complemented well by that kind of dance routine— if your quartet or chorus is up to it, of course. Otherwise, sing it soft and easy, and convince your audience that there's nothing in life you'd rather do than be back in the old routine!

As a final note: Questions about the contest suitability of this or any song/arrangement should be directed to the judging community and measured against current contest rules. Ask before you sing.
